CCFD - Terre solidaire invites its partner organizations

It is a high point every year to:

Help CCFD's contributors understand the purpose of their commitment

- by realizing the challenges the peoples from the Southern hemisphere have to face
- by learning about the development actions of one of CCFD's 450 partners

Introduce CCFD's project and realizations to a broader public

- through the account of agents of social change in Southern countries

Keep the partnership between CCFD and its local counterparts going, giving them the opportunity

- of understanding some of the challenges the local communities in France must overcome
- and exchanging experiences with French civil society
